¹ The acquisition and use of this software is strongly recommended by the CEGEP, both for the completion of college studies and for all other needs (job market, university studies, etc.). This software is also available on workstations made available to students on CEGEP premises, including libraires. However, an Antidote Web license loan program is available.

² Antidote may be required in some courses as teaching materials. This information is specified in the course plans, if applicable. A temporary Antidote license loan system is available.

³ The request for eligibility for the program must be made to the person responsible for financial aid at the CEGEP.
